

GERIATRIC NURSING

DEPARTMENTS

FROM THE EDITOR

- 207 Time
Priscilla Ebersole

209 NEWSVIEW

211 CALENDAR

DRUG CONSULT

- 212 The Regulatory Influence on Medication Administration in Long-Term Care Facilities
Barbara S. Cassidy

NUTRITION AND WELL-BEING

- 216 Meeting Nutrition Needs in Long Term Care
Peggy K. Yen

HOME HEALTH CARE

- 218 Resiliency: A Factor to Consider When Facilitating the Transition from Hospital to Home in Older Adults
Carol A. Esche and Elizabeth K. Tanner

223 BOOK REVIEWS

NGNA SECTION

- 225 NGNA News
Robin E. Remsburg and Neva L. Crogan
- 229 Cafecitos and Telenovelas: Culturally Competent Interventions to Facilitate Mexican American Families' Decisions to Use Home Care Services
Janice D. Crist

NGNP SECTION

- 233 Pharmacology Update
Ann S. Luggen
- 234 Research Review
Barbara Resnick
- 234 GNP Care Guidelines
Jeff Trees and Ann Luggen

FEATURE ARTICLES

- 237 Long-Term Care Insurance: Buy It or Not!
Nagia S. Ali

Many consumers consider the purchase of long-term care (LTC) insurance. Gerontologic nurses can empower aging Americans through awareness and knowledge of LTC plans.

- 241 A Nurse Goes Shopping for a Continuing Care Retirement Community
Dorothy Kirk Bertsch

As this personal account illustrates, the evaluation and selection of a continuing care retirement community is a serious and time-consuming endeavor.

- 245 Urinary Tract Infections in the Elderly: A Survey of Physicians and Nurses

Susan Midthun, Ruth Paur, A. Wayne Bruce, and Peter Midthun

Urinary tract infections (UTI) are common in nursing home elderly. No consensus exists concerning what symptoms are true markers of a UTI in this population, but identifying