

NURSING EDUCATION®

May 2007

Volume 46, Number 5

Concept Mapping

An Inventive Teaching-Learning Technique

Guest Editorial

Concept Mapping: An Easy Teaching Strategy that Contributes to Understanding and May Improve Critical Thinking

Marsha Fonteyn, PhD, RN, OCN

199

Major Articles

Interactive Teaching: A Concept Analysis

Renee T. Ridley, MSN, APRN, BC, CFNP

203

Concept Mapping: A Nursing Model for Care Planning

Jana Taylor, MS, RN, HNC; and Peggy Wros, PhD, RN

211

Serial Concept Maps: Tools for Concept Analysis

Anita C. All, PhD, RN; and LaRae I. Huycke, MS, APRN, BC

217

Learning Style Preference and Student Aptitude for Concept Maps

Carol T. Kostovich, PhD, RN; Michele Poradzisz, PhD, RN; Karen Wood, DNSc, RN, CCRN; and Karen L. O'Brien, MSN, RN

225

Educational Innovations

Concept Mapping as a Means of Course Evaluation

Melanie S. MacNeil, EdD, MSN, RN

232

A Capstone Teaching Project for Undergraduate Nursing Students: Development of a Visual Teaching-Learning Tool

Carol D. Epstein, PhD, RN, FCCM

235

Use of Oral Examinations to Teach Concepts of Evidence-Based Practice to Nurse Practitioner Students

Mary E. Burman, PhD, APRN, BC; Ann Marie Hart, PhD, APRN, BC; Julie Brown, ND, APRN, BC; and Pat Sherard, MS, APRN, BC

238

Departments

Faculty Q&A

201

Syllabus Selection: Innovative Learning Activity

243