

nursing older people

October 2005 Volume 17 issue 7

www.nursingolderpeople.co.uk

3 Editorial

news

4-5 News

6 News comment – Daniel Allen

8 News comment – Hazel Heath

feature

10 Never too late to learn

Thelma Agnew explores the benefits of learning in later life

14 Ask the experts

Consultant nurses discuss resuscitation gerontological care and practice

16 Across cultures – implementing the Evercare model

Aileen Fraser and colleagues describe a pilot study designed to test an American approach to the care of older people

20 Medication management: older people and nursing

The relevance of medication management to the care of older people is explored by Maggi Banning

24 Hypothermia:

assessment, treatment and prevention

The symptoms of hypothermia can be confused with other age-related illnesses in older people. Rebecca Neno points out what to look for and what advice can be given

31 Recognising and managing stress

Philip Woodrow gives an update on the harmful effects of stress in older people resources

33 Journal scan, website watch, new reports, media watch

37 Book reviews

opinion

38 Email interview

Lorraine Morgan describes her varied and busy working life in Wales

39 Positive ageing

Laurence Dopson reports on an initiative in Scotland that uses hymn singing to trigger reminiscences among older people

Hypothermia
see page 24