

The Journal of Continuing Education in Nursing®

CONTINUING COMPETENCE FOR THE FUTURE

13 518 2540

Volume 36, Number 3

May/June 2005

ORIGINAL ARTICLES

- 108 Innovative Approaches to Reducing Nurses' Distractions During Medication Administration
 Tess M. Pape, PhD, MSN, BSN, RN, Denise M. Guerra, BSN, RN, Marguerite Muzquiz, MSN, RN, BC, John B. Bryant, RN, BSN, Michelle Ingram, BSN, RN, Bonnie Schranner, MSN, RN, Armando Alcala, RN, Johanna Sharp, MSN, RN, Dawn Bishop, MSN, RN, Estella Carreno, RN, and Jesusita Welker, RN
- 117 The Effects of a Theory-Based Training Program on Nurses' Self-Efficacy and Behavior for Smoking Cessation Counseling
Sandra K. Barta, RN, MS, and Richard D. Stacy, MPH, EdD
- 124 An Annual Employee Education Calendar as the Capstone of Educational Assessment, Planning, and Delivery
Paula G. Morton, EdD, RN, C
- 133 Do New Graduates of Registered Nursing Programs in Israel Perceive Themselves as Technically Competent?
Haya Greenberger, PhD, RN, Hiba Reches, MA, RN, and Shoshana Riba, PhD, RN

DEPARTMENTS

- 99 Editorial: Nursing at Its Best
- 100 Administrative Angles: It's All About the People
- 102 Clinical Updates: Delirium
- 104 Teaching Tips: Do Your CATS PRRR?: A Mnemonic Device to Teach Safety Checks for Administering Intravenous Medications
- 107 Key Points
- 141 ► CE Quiz for May/June
- 143 Classified Marketplace
- Cover 3 Information for Authors