

GERIATRIC NURSING

DEPARTMENTS

FROM THE EDITOR

- 221 Three Years Later . . . Remembering and Learning from Katrina
Barbara Resnick

PHARMACY COLUMN

- 223 The Generic Imperative
Barbara J. Zarowitz

LEGAL COLUMN

- 227 Strategies to Defend against Quality of Care Allegations
Donna J. Senft

ASSISTED LIVING COLUMN

- 230 Assisted Living Nursing Practice: Health Literacy and Chronic Illness Management
Ethel Mitty and Sandi Flores

ACUTE CARE OF THE ELDERLY COLUMN

- 236 Pay for Performance: Will It Add to the Perfect Storm in Health Care or Provide Safe Sailing?
Lorraine C. Mion

NGNA SECTION

- 240 Access to Care and Health-Related Quality of Life Among Older Adults with Nonurgent Emergency Department Visits
Deborah A. D'Avolio, James Feldman, Patricia Mitchell, and Neville Strumpf

NCGNP SECTION

- 248 One of Our Own Is the First Nurse to Receive the Clinician of the Year Award from American Geriatrics Society: Valisa Saunders, MN, FAAN, APRN, GNP

- 248 NCGNP Pioneer in Acute Care and Standards of Practice
Kathleen Fletcher

- 250 Welcoming Ethnic Elders to Health Care
Kathleen Jett

- 251 Bold Changes Needed to Meet Health Care Needs of Elderly: What NPs Need to Know
Patricia A. Kappas-Larson

FEATURE ARTICLES

- 253 Learning from Katrina: Preparing Long-Term Care Facilities for Disasters
Jacqueline Rhoads and Andrea Clayman
- Hurricane Katrina has provided nurses who work with older adults an opportunity to consider how they will care for these individuals in the face of a disaster. Given the inevitability of new disasters, and the aging of the American population, this type of scenario can and will happen again.

259 Contractures in Frail Nursing Home Residents

*Laura M. Wagner, Elizabeth Capezuti,
Barbara L. Brush, Carolyn Clevenger,
Marie Boltz, and Susan Renz*

This study highlights the high prevalence of contractures, the underlying factors associated with them, and the need to prevent or minimize contracture formation, including the role restorative nursing care plays in this avoidable condition.

267 Family Caregiver Burden by Relationship to Care Recipient with Dementia in Korea

Gwi-Ryung Son Hong and Hyojeong Kim

The traditional role of filial care for the frail elderly in Korea is changing rapidly. This study is a first step in gaining a better understanding of the roles of alternative care givers and their relationships to care recipients and family members.

275 Dementia and Dysphagia

Caryn S. Easterling and Elizabeth Robbins

This article describes evidence-based practices in caring for those individuals with dementia and dysphagia with guidelines for evaluation and management.

READER SERVICES

219 Editorial Board

e1 Information for Authors

220 Information for Readers