FEATURE ARTICLES

- 256 Observing How RNs Use Clinical Time in a Nursing Home: A Pilot Study

Mary Ellen Dellefield, Charlene Harrington, and Ann Kelly

The purpose of the study was to describe the direct and indirect care distribution of registered nurses' working day shift in a nursing home.

- 264 Impact of Soft and Hard Insole Density on Postural Stability in Older Adults

Marta Elena Losa Iglesias, Ricardo Becerro de Bengoa Vallejo, and Domingo Palacios Peña

The purpose of this study was to evaluate postural stability during different standing conditions, including shoe insoles of varying density, and while standing barefoot, with and without visual feedback.

- 272 Functional Decline in Hospitalized Older Adults: Can Nursing Make a Difference?

Marie Boltz, Barbara Resnick, Elizabeth Capezuti, Joseph Shuluk, and Michelle Secic

Function-focused care (FFC) is an approach to care in which nurses help patients engage in activities of daily living and physical activity, with the goal of preventing avoidable functional decline. Results suggest that hospitalized older persons can benefit from FFC.

- 280 A Meta-Analysis on the Impact of Disease-Specific Education Programs on Health Outcomes for Patients with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease

Jing-Yu Tan, Jin-Xiu Chen, Xian-Liang Liu, Qi Zhang, Min Zhang, Li-Juan Mei, and Run Lin

The objective of this meta-analysis was to evaluate whether disease-specific education programs were beneficial to health-related quality of life variables and other long-term health outcomes in patients with COPD.
