

Features

25 JAN. 8, 2548

50 COVER STORY Find What Workers Want

Discovering what motivates particular segments of your workforce is more important than ever—and increasingly doable. Pamela Babcock

58 TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT Training Revs Up

The race to build internal employee talent fuels an increased emphasis on training. Kathryn Tyler

64 TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT Meet the New Learning Executive

New-breed learning executives are making their business mark on organizations. Robert Rodriguez

50

Special Report on Employment & Staffing

70 The Next Generation of Hiring Metrics

The latest generation of metrics offers HR new opportunities to evaluate the effectiveness of corporate hiring practices. Charlotte Garvey

78 Dialing for Candidates

Good phone screening techniques can save time and quickly identify the most promising job candidates. Martha Frase-Blunt

84 De-Greening Teens

Better screening and orientation strategies for teenagers may help prevent legal and practical problems in the workplace. Susan J. Wells

84

HR Agendas

HR TECHNOLOGY

95 'Social Network' Recruiting

Old-fashioned recruitment networking goes high-tech. Jennifer C. Berkshire

COMPENSATION & BENEFITS

101 Health Education Turns Proactive

With workers requiring deeper, more-tailored information to manage their health options, HR is finding ways to fill the bill. Lin Grensing-Pophal

95

Columns

FROM THE PRESIDENT

12 Social Security and the Role of HR

HR must monitor the Social Security debate to assess how it may impact their organization's pension benefits for current and future workers. Susan Meisinger

FROM THE EDITORS

14 What motivates employees; training on the rise; hiring practices

Terence F. Shea; Adrienne Fox; Patrick Mirza

HR SOLUTIONS

47 Union Cards, Independent Contractors, Child Care

Glynda R. Parker, John Sweeney and Vicki Neal

MANAGEMENT TOOLS

111 Stay Above the Fray

Encourage your employees to try to resolve minor conflicts before bringing them to you. Kelly Mollica

LEGAL TRENDS

121 Shatter the Glass Ceiling, Dodge the Shards

Help develop female talent, but beware of policies and practices that might inadvertently discriminate against men. Jonathan A. Segal

FUTURE FOCUS

176 Privacy at Work

Employees may be more tolerant of employer monitoring if they are assured that their personal data will be safeguarded. Jennifer Schramm

Special Sections

143 Global Forum Showcase

147 Yellow Pages

163 Outsourcing Buyers' Guide

16 Executive Briefing

Stock option grants dwindling; CEO pay scrutinized; CEOs attend 'boot camp'; more.

27 From Readers

College career centers; choosing ADA battles; training for black female executives; more.

31 HR News

Payroll budgets in 2004 overlooked new overtime; employers and workers slow to embrace HSAs; global survey finds little respect for HR; more.

107 HR Technology

Reduce 'onboarding' time with technology.

117 Court Report

Labor law rulings: verbal abuse of supervisor not protected; RNs not supervisors; more.

129 Inside SHRM

Annual conference preview; board announces 2005 Membership Advisory Council; more.

133 Books in Brief

Quick! Show Me Your Value; more.

139 What's New

COBRA-related resource; EEOC training guide; more.

173 HR Jobs

121