

contents

Features

COVER STORY 46 Clocking Out ▶

Is working when and where you want the wave of the future?
Frank Jossi

PROFILE 52 HR at the Summit

Agilent Technologies' HR chief Jean Halloran has applied the tactics of mountain climbing to accomplishing her professional goals. Bill Roberts

CAREER DEVELOPMENT 58 New Competencies for HR ▶

Researchers have identified six core competencies for top HR professionals. Do you have what it takes?
Robert J. Grossman

COMPENSATION 64 Weighing Pay Incentives ▶

Effective employee incentive plans require careful thought and precise execution. Joanne Sammer

TECHNOLOGY 70 Keeping E-mail in Check ▶

Effectively managing your company's e-mail starts with knowing what risks it creates in the workplace—and then doing something about them. Rita Zeidner

STRATEGIC HR 76 Fitting the Pieces Together ▶

Sprint Nextel's two-year-old merger continues to be a challenging but fulfilling journey.
Ann Pomeroy

46

70

▶ Additional information available online at www.shrm.org/hrmagazine.
▶ Video available at www.shrm.org/hrmagazine.

EMPLOYMENT LAW

82 Setting the Records Straight ▶

Take state laws into account when ordering personnel records and responding to employees' requests to see them. Diane Cadrain

BENEFITS

88 Attacking Asthma's Costs ▶

Many employers are becoming convinced that by helping employees who have asthma breathe easier, everybody comes out ahead. Pamela Babcock

EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

94 Smoother Separations ▶

How your company treats departing employees can have a positive effect on your business. Nancy Hatch Woodward

TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT

98 Show All Employees a Wider World ▶

Your employees should be trained to deal knowledgeably with their counterparts in other countries where you do business. Martha Frasc

82

88

113

HR Agendas

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

105 Statistically Speaking ▶

HR executives can turn economic indicators into strategic business insights, adding value to their companies. Joanne Sammer

GLOBAL HR

113 Protecting Employees in Harm's Way ▶

Does your company need safety and security protections for international workers? Here's how to choose a security provider. Ann Pomeroy

Columns

FROM THE PRESIDENT

12 Latest Competency Study Defines New HR Roles

The 2007 HR Competency Study lays out the very model of the modern HR professional. Susan Meisinger