LETTERS ..... 6

NOTEBOOK

Four lessons from the U.S. midterm elections; why New Delhi is shutting down thousands of small businesses; turnover at the top for European automakers: are low-carb diets really safe?..... 9

MILESTONES: Hong Kong's Margaret Chan named head of World Health Organization; journalist Ed Bradley, former East German spy boss Markus Wolf and Oscar-winning actor Jack Palance die..... 16

10 QUESTIONS: Author Gore Vidal on American empire, the case against gay marriage, and why novelists get no respect... 17

COVER STORY

GETTING REAL: The Democratic takeover of Congress signals a profound shift in U.S. foreign policy as realpolitik begins to displace the Bush Administration's go-it-alone idealism. Plus, a look at the post-Bumsfeld advisory team that will try to guide the President and America out of Iraq..... 20

MIDDLE EAST

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT: Saddam's sentencing shows Iraqis support the death penalty, but a rash of crude hangings raises questions about the country's justice system..... 32

BUSINESS

OPENING UP: Vietnam's entry into the World Trade Organization could supercharge the country's booming economy, if the government can carry out much-needed reforms..... 34

ARTS

BUFF BOND: The new 007 looks great with his shirt off, but can Casino Royale sustain the superspy film franchise?..... 64

MOVIES AND MORE: The best DVDs offer more than films alone. Here are five picks for comprehensive entertainment..... 65

REBEL WRITER: Alice Munro's latest book is a master class in great fiction. First lesson: ignore the rules..... 66

TIME GLOBAL ADVISER

An Indian singing legend is set for a rare curtain call in Brussels; stumbling upon a Central Asian oasis of Soviet-era abstract art; Koh Samui cuisine goes upmarket..... 67

PEOPLE: Britney Spears and Kevin Federline call it quits..... 71

ESSAY: Michael Kinsley explains why those who pushed the U.S. into the Iraq war should apologize..... 72
